

Importance of Environmental Responsibility

Assessment Task

Why environmental responsibility is important (Individual activity) (LO3 AS2)

Prepare a short speech of about two minutes about environmental responsibility and why it is important. Include at least five main points to support your statement. [10 marks]

Read the following guidelines on writing and delivering a successful speech:

- Start with good research. Make sure you know what you are going to write your speech about.
- Start with a clear introduction to your speech.
- Then state what speechwriters call your SPS: specific purpose statement. This will be what your speech is all about.
- Decide what your theme for the speech will be. This is woven through the speech. In this case it will be sustainable use of resources, for example.
- Create an outline of your speech and organise your content according to the outline.
- You are now ready to write your speech. Check the language usage in your speech and make sure you do not have grammar mistakes. Make sure that your speech does not exceed the allocated time.
- Concentrate on delivering the speech fluently, while capturing the attention of your audience with proper eye-contact.
